

Erasmus Policy Statement (EPS)

Our students will put knowledge in a practical way during their mobility academic period. It will be carried out in Europe mainly, but we do not renounce any other countries.

The main objectives of the project are:

- The internalization of the students and personnel staff, consciousness of the different working environments, and the improvement of their linguistic capacities.
- The establishment of new strategic alliances which permit us to participate in international projects.

This strategic mobility groups are the professional training courses and the personnel staff of our institution.

In order to improve the competitiveness and the integration of people in an international environment, we are interested in promoting the mobility of our students and staff.

Through the cooperation with the consortiums AICE and Confebask, we participate in the search of companies and partners that permit us to provide the most necessary, possible and varied quality practices for our students.

This allows us to build long-lasting relationships with other institutions and companies in a manner that we can participate in interesting projects which add value to our mobility programmes.

This mobility will permit the students, not only to adapt to the needs of the labour market on an international scale and good practices from other countries, but also the transference of knowledge and competences.

In our institution, we resolve to offer our students and staff the opportunity to improve their perspectives in the current labour environment. And, internship or participating in projects abroad is one way to achieve it. The Erasmus mobility will help us to obtain it.

1. Being conscious that nowadays companies need people with the best academic training, our main objective is to offer the best professional training for our students (revising our programmes annually, preparing continuous evaluations and updating our course materials and methodology).

Besides, we encourage our students, not only to carry out any kind of formation which let them progress their knowledge but also, the participation in the mobility programmes in order to improve the students´ abilities , and to contribute to the necessities of the higher education which the European community demands.

2. With the purpose of improving the quality and importance of the higher education, all the courses we offer are validated through the quality system. We also consider the collaboration with other companies in a very important way, because they give us their view about the necessities in the labour market in order to incorporate them to our course listing.

3. The mobility of our students and staff, and the cooperation with other foreign centers and companies will contribute to the development of the projects which improve the students´abilities and the quality of their formation. In that way, the ERASMUS plan will help us to establish networks with HEIs and companies which will contribute to strengthen the quality and formation of our students and staff.

4- In our institution, we have always established a very close contact with the business and professional environment. For us it is vital, in order to connect our formation to their necessities in a way that our students can be benefited from their contribution, and working together, they can reach a transfer of knowledge.

5. The management of the resources is something that we are very aware of and, with the objective of the improvement of the financing, and working in collaboration with the educational and professional worlds, we search for the joint financing of our programmes through organisms such as the Basque Government, the Education Ministry, European funds etc...
